TRUCKS
like our treatment

• AFTER YOUR TRUCK has been through our shop you can tell by the way it runs that our treatment is good and thorough. It takes men who know all about motor trucks to make export repairs. Our mechanics qualify for this important work. And they're hard at it these days doing all they can to keep more trucks rolling.

Your truck also appreciates good replacement parts. We sell the best—genuine International parts that are identical with the original parts built into International Trucks at the factory. Order your parts now from our big stock.

New trucks will be scarce for some time to come. A few will be available in this community for essential civilian hauling. We will be glad to help you make out the necessary application. But the big thing is to keep your present equipment in the best possible shape. That's the important job we'll do for you whenever you say.

ents in LaBelle has returned to her home in Felda.

Peaches For Canning

Georgia peaches are now retailing in the local markets for 25c the pound, but dealers are expecting soon that the supply will be such that they can be bought by the bushel at reasonable prices, so that housewives can do canning and preserving of the succulent fruit.

With the increased tax effective on cigarettes, beer and whiskey, Florida is in a position to claim the doubtful honor of imposing higher taxes on these products and on gasoline than any state in the union.

TWO REGIONAL FAVORITES TOPS IN TASTE APPEAL

TOMATO STUFFED WITH CRAB MEAT

RECIPE

• Combine 5 cups crab meat, 2 hard cooked eggs, 1 cup stale of celery diced, one green pepper diced, and one small onion minced. Mix with 1 cup mayonnaise and season to taste. Bake 6 large tomatoes cut lengthwise. Put slice from top of each and scoop out. Add tomato pulp to the crab meat mixture, and fill the tomato shells. Bake on crisp lettuce leaf, garnering with mayonnaise and sprig of parsley. Six portions. Serve with cold beverage.

Send us your favorite regional recipes. When printed we will gladly recognize their source.

and a frosty

JAX
Beer

• Flavor-favorites always pair together—and it's that way with two of the Southeast's greatest regional taste-teams—Tomato Stuffed with Crab
Meat, and a sparkling, cool bottle of JAX—the Drink of Friendship!...For a light meal—anytime of day—this pair of regional favorites will hit the taste spot everytime, because they appeal to our distinctive regional tastes.

• Pour a glass of taste-tempting JAX... notice its fine aroma, the fine, full-bodied richness, and the golden amber color that's just right! Then sip your glass of JAX slowly, to relish its distinct regional flavor —for JAX is brewed to please Southeastern palates! Then, we believe, you'll pronounce JAX a grand and glorious brew —a premium beer for which you never pay a premium price!

Say JAX!
—we can't get

than it does today. Maybe a big community out there soon had I been able to capture all the rabbits that I saw run across the road I sure would have had enough to have staged a good big rabbit feast. The cottontails seemed to be most plentiful mostly half grown animals. Hate to think of the number of cubs a hunter might run across in transgressing into that weedy land section.

In these war days when cotton goods are scarce and hard to obtain, the feed bag becomes precious in the eyes of the home makers, for it is a source of supply for the making of pillow slips, sheets and other garments to wear. The printed bags, of course are washed and bleached so as to get out all coloring in order to make it useful for household purposes. Dealers who use this type of sewing cloth estimate that it costs them around $3.85 a yard, a proportion of which is added to the price of the cotton and chicken feed price, so after all the cloth is not so economic as suspected. Falling head over heels into the vicious plot of the miller, our women have built up quite a rivalry in these bags. In the old days we used to see the boys taking off their shirts at the swimming hole, and we were about evenly divided among Pillsbury, Gold Medal and Ceresota. You could tell from a boy's underwear how much his mother knew about baking biscuit.

But grain bags differ from the old flour bags in that the ladies now proudly exhibit their clothes at club. One woman will lament that she needs one more piece of the blue forget-me-nots, but the pattern on the middie changed before she got her dress done. Club being what it is, she shortly finds a woman who has a forget-me-not but needs a blue check for kitchen drapes. Business is good everybody is seeing, little girls look sweet in bright cotton dresses, and the grain store is flowing six or eight carloads a week. At night repeat, $3.85 per yard.

Belle Glade citizens did not celebrate our national holiday, known as the Fourth of July, in any extensive manner, other than displaying a few national emblems. Most of the population, who had cars and gas, liked themselves off to the beaches or other outing places. Many family picnic parties were staged at various places over the Glades. Fishing parties were most numerous.

The government at last has taken action whereby it takes full cognizance of the agriculture workers, and the importance of their contributions to the war efforts. Administration heads state that the efforts of the farmers to produce is on the same basis of production as the industrial, professional classes and all other war time activities, and their efforts have been a mammoth contribution to the success of the war.

With millions of new mouths to feed at home and especially in the war-torn countries of the earth, more food must be produced, and the farmers are again called upon to increase their production. This time the farmer has assurances that he will not be planting and producing for no profit to him, but that he will be allowed a decent increase of profit for his time and labor.

With the taking over the Agricultural Department by Secretary Anderson, farmers are taking on a more optimistic view of their calling, for they feel that the new administrator will surely make changes and bring about a better standard of operation in the producing and distribution of food of every nature. Changes in the President's cabinet present the fact that there will be considerable favorable turnover in the attitude of the department.

ments concerning the rights of the producers and the citizens of America. None too soon, say we all.

Our boys must keep on fighting—we must keep on buying WAR BONDS until victory is won. Keep on BUYING THE ATTACK.

With improvements and development in progress multiplied many times on the planning boards, another five years, 1950, holds prospects for a growth stupendous in imagination even. "To the Glades" has become a motto for "big money" throughout the eastern part of the United States, and little men are on their way here who will become big men within the not too distant future, with a combination of their energy and brains with "big money's" opportunities and Nature's gift in soil and climate.

MR. FARMER

In the past ten years carloadings of vegetables in Belle Glade have more than doubled. In the same period packing facilities have been improved but have not been expanded to keep pace with this increase

We have lost crops that were ready to harvest because of this condition. Crops that would have meant money in the bank.

This Mr. Farmer is the reason for the plant now under construction by the E. H. Borchardt Company. The capacity of this plant will be 25 carloads daily.

Services and facilities of this plant will be offered without strings attached. We will pack, precool and sell, at equitable rates, ANY CROP YOU WANT TO GROW, AT ANY TIME. Each and all services are offered with or without the other.

We invite you to come in and discuss your plans for the coming season.

OIL ON TROUBLED WATERS

A spreading oil slick . . . brief marker for the death of a gallant American tanker . . . and for innocent merchant seamen who defied the wolf-packs to get the precious oil through to our fighters and their allies.

Gone are the days when our merchant ships burned helplessly in sight of the South Florida coast . . . the wolf-packs no longer roam the Atlantic.

We lost millions of tons of gasoline and oil to enemy submarines, but millions more got through in time to speed the day of Victory in Europe.

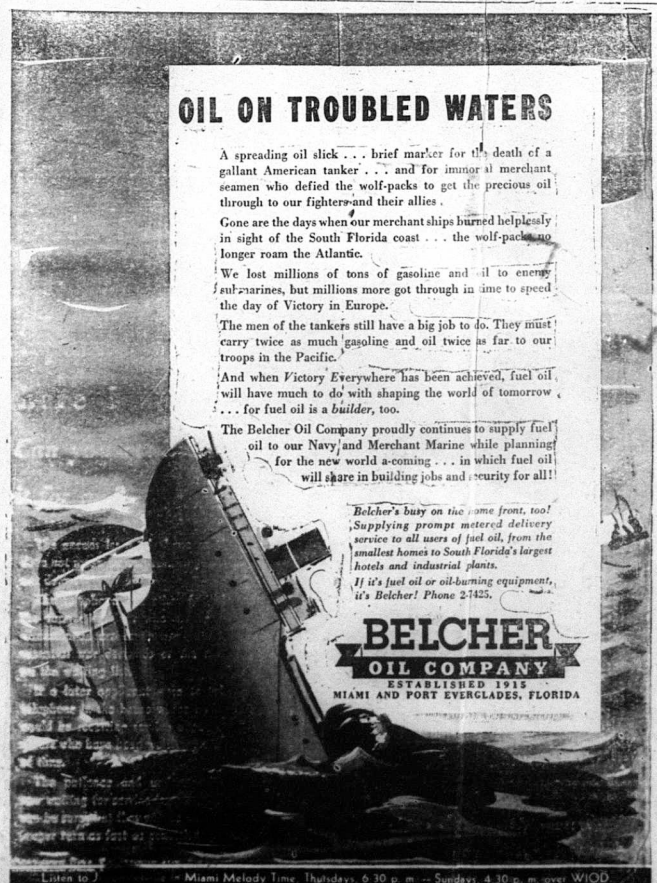

The men of the tankers still have a big job to do. They must carry twice as much gasoline and oil twice as far to our troops in the Pacific.

And when Victory Everywhere has been achieved, fuel oil will have much to do with shaping the world of tomorrow . . . for fuel oil is a builder, too.

The Belcher Oil Company proudly continues to supply fuel oil to our Navy and Merchant Marine while planning for the new world a-coming . . . in which fuel oil will share in building jobs and security for all!

Belcher's busy on the same front, too! Supplying prompt metered delivery service to all users of fuel oil, from the smallest homes to South Florida's largest hotels and industrial plants. If it's fuel oil or oil-burning equipment, it's Belcher! Phone 2-1425.
